PO1 LIDYA MOORE

What's something unique about you? (Hobbies, Dreams, Goals, Why you joined the (Branch of Service))

Determined to follow in the footsteps of her uncle Personnel Specialist First Class Lidya C. Moore joined the United States Navy in 2009. While serving, she discovered a passion for film and has dedicated countless hours to raising awareness to the rare skin condition, Vitiligo. She has since written, directed and produced the first ever film about the skin disorder. Moore is a devoted advocate for the Vitiligo community and is humbled by the voice given that she utilizes to speak out against the unfortunate issues surrounding people diagnosed with the skin condition. Through film, she hopes to produce inspiration that will pose a positive impact on society and bring all people of all genera together.

Tell us a little about your job?

As Administrative Assistant for DEOMI Human Resource Department, Moore is accountable for tasks ranging from processing military/civilian correspondence, awards, producing/revising command policy memorandums and Standard Operating Procedures. Her other duties include retirements/separations, processing in and out bound service members, maintaining various tracking systems and the management of approximately 11 programs in support of 1,000 joint staff and students. As the Navy students administrative point of contact, Moore is also responsible for all pay and personnel transactions.

What's your favorite part of being assigned to DEOMI?

Moore's favorite part of being assigned to DEOMI is serving the only institution of the Armed Forces that profoundly communicates the importance of diversity and inclusivity. DEOMI has further ignited her purpose in bringing awareness to not only the workplace, but also our society's need for diversity and inclusion. Being able to play an intricate part of the institutions history, educating service members from all branches of service and increasing awareness of diversity has been truly a privilege and honor for her.

What makes PO1 Moore such an outstanding Service Member?

(Air Force Senior Master Sgt. Michael Baletto) Her unwavering dedication to duty has proven to be an exceptional asset to the DEOMI Human Resources Department. Her remarkable results will have an enduring impact on DEOMI's reputation as the only premiere Department of Defense and Department of Homeland Security Center of Excellence for Human Relations and research. Moore is an exceptionally strong Noncommissioned Officer and next-generation leader with an eye for details, dedicated to improving herself, mentoring others, & embracing the duties and mission of DEOMI.
