

Department of Defense 2022 Pride Month Poster

The word “RESPECT” is positioned vertically at the top of the red band, the word “DIGNITY” is positioned vertically at the bottom of the orange band, and the word “SERVICE” is positioned vertically in the middle of the blue band.

At the bottom center of the poster is the observance theme “ALL TOGETHER” in large colored capitalized block text in the same rainbow theme sequence. The colors transition in the word “ALL” from red to orange. In the word “TOGETHER” the letters transition from the “TO” in yellow, to the letters “GE” in green, to the letters “TH” in blue, and to the letters “ER” in purple.

Centered immediately beneath the observance theme is the observance title and month in smaller capitalized, dark blue block text, “PRIDE MONTH • JUNE.” A small solid dark blue colored dot separates the word “Month” from the month “June.”

At the bottom left corner are the Department of Defense and Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute (DEOMI) seals and a quick response code which links to the DEOMI website, www.defenseculture.mil. At the bottom right corner the U.S. Service seals for the Military Department of Military Service in consecutive order for the Army, Marines, Navy, Air Force, Space Force, and Coast Guard.
